An Apparent Outrage Perpetrated on the Golden Rule.

New Orleans Picayune, Thursday.j A couple of roustabouts brought suit yesterday before the United States commissioner, for eight dollars apiece, work they did not perform. It appears that the roustabouts hired on the boat at Cincinnati, and on the strival of the boat at this port were duly paid off and discharged. The reason for their dis-missal was for shirking their duty. A summons was served on Captain Shinkie, who sent his chief mate out to the customhouse to attend to the matter, and when in the commissioner's sanctum he proceeded to give his testimony, when the judge ordered him to stop, and went so far as to show him the door. When these facts became known to Captain Shinkle, that gentleman went out and gave bond, and had the boat released.

After writing the above, we learn that the judge decided that the Captain could pay the cost of court and take back to Cincinnati the two roustatouts, or pay the two roustabouts the sum of eight dollars each, and the roustabouts could remain at this port. Captain Shinkle had a similar case while in command of the steamer Charles Bodman. The case was tried before United States Commissioner Weller, who decided against the boat, and Captain Shinkle appealed it, and when the case came up before Judge E. H. Dureil, that judge decided in favor of the boat, at the same time ruling that the law governing versels on the high sear were not applicable to steamers navigating inland waters; that a captain of a river steamer had a right to | GEO. We have noticed several cases before commissioners like that before the commissioner yesterday, and can only add that they are likely to occur until a change of government, which will no doubt take place in November
